OPENING DAY'S PLAY.

SHANGHAI v. HONGKONG.

SCORES AT NOON.

After yesterday's rain the Cricket Ground was looking its very best this morning and long before the start spectators began to fill the stands and benches round the field of play. The wicket is in splendid condition, hard but very true and is the sort of wicket that all three teams have been used to play on for most of their cricket season. Unless the weather breaks down, and it looks as if this is quite probable, we may expect to see big scores made, and the Hongkong team ought to shine in this department. A fast or medium bowler is apt to prove expensive on a wicket like this and both Hongkong and Shanghai depend a good deal on this type of trumper. The wicket ought to suit R. E. O. Bird from whom so much is expected; but should it rain before the close of the match it will be a severe handicap to him. The whole ground has received a great deal of attention and is in beautiful condition for which the Ground Committee of the H.K.C.C. are to be congratulated. Unfortunately the ground is very much on the small side and it is hardly possible to make proper arrangements for a large number of spectators without still further reducing the playing area. Stands have been erected for the Members and Subscribers of the Hongkong Cricket Club and also for the general public in the south-west corner of the ground and benches have been placed round the boundary line, those on the south side being reserved for soldiers and sailors. The Press have also been very comfortably accommodated in a special stand and a match has been erected beside the scoring board to accommodate the official scorers. The small ground has been commented upon by most of the visitors and also the tricky light caused by our ground being surrounded by buildings. However the light is not nearly so bad as some people think and once the visitors get used to it, they are sure to find it pleasant rather than the bright glare met with in the Straits. It is when fielding in the country that difficulties arise. The ball goes up and sometimes you lose sight of it against the buildings or the trees to see it again against the sky and eventually to lose it again on its way down before being able to judge where to catch it. Fielders must be forgiven a lot in this department especially in the evening. In this connection it is very wise to have stumps drawn at 5 p.m. As the starting hour was somewhat early for most people and Saturday is a busy day in most offices there was only a fair turn out when play started but by noon the ground was comfortably filled. For an hour before the advertised time practice was going on at the nets and most of the players were seen performing.

Wainwright and Hancock tossed in front of the pavilion at 10.15 and Wainwright winning elected to bat.

This, of course, was a foregone conclusion as it is essentially a batsman's wicket. Five minutes later the two umpires, both Hongkong men, A. W. Bliss and F. E. Baskett, took the field and a few minutes later Hancock led his team on to the field amid cheers from the pavilion. W. G. C. Clifford and H. B. Ollerdsen faced the bowling of R. E. O. Bird and Capt. Davies. Ollerdsen took the first over from Bird and was not at all comfortable, being very nearly bowled by the first ball sent down and if he had lifted his foot he might have been stumped off the third ball. He got the remaining three balls away in the vicinity of mid on but could not score, and a maiden over resulted. Davies bowled his first over to Clifford who scored a single from the third ball. Clifford studied Bird carefully before trying to score off him and when he did he made a pretty four past cover point. In trying for a single off a similar shot a few moments later Ollerdsen was almost thrown out by a clever and hard return from Pearce. A good ball from Bird tied up Ollerdsen and he got his pads across to a breaking ball to save his wicket. Francis appealed for l.b.w. but the ball was pitched off the wicket. Davies continued to send down his usual express deliveries just outside the off stump and from an exceptionally fast one he got Clifford caught at second slip. The batsman tried to cut the ball very late and fine almost off his off-bail and the ball travelled like lightning to Major Edwards who brought off one of the finest one hand catches made in Hongkong well away from his body and low down. The scoring board did not look well for Shanghai at this time. Total 8 for 1 wicket; last man 6.

D. W. Leach joined Ollerdsen and treated Bird with great respect and this bowler had two maidens in his first three overs. Davies was no-balled in his third over and Leach took the opportunity to try and play him to leg and a nice glance in the direction of square leg brought in 2 runs. The same batsman tried to cut Davies but was not successful, fortunately for himself. Ollerdsen tried to hit Bird and came well out to a ball which he hit high over the bowler's head straight to where Fielding was fielding. It ought to have been an easy catch and at first he seemed to have held it but he got too far in and dropped it. A very unfortunate mistake which may cost Hongkong the match as Ollerdsen is a very fine batsman and was just feeling comfortable and after this life he let out at Davies and got a nice boundary past the bowler. A fumbled ball by Wodehouse in the slips cost his side 2 runs and then Ollerdsen hit Bird to the rails over mid-on's head. In trying to play a ball from Davies to leg Leach got the edge of his bat on to the ball and it went up in the direction of Bird at point but not near enough to be caught. The score now reached 30 of which Ollerdsen had collected 21 and both batsmen seemed much more at ease and were endeavouring to "score from the bowling. Hongkong's fielding apart from Farthing's mistake was very good and nothing was being given away in that department. Ollerdsen made some very pretty leg hits off Davies, and though they only brought singles they were deservedly applauded especially a glance off a fast ball which seemed almost a Yorker. 50 went up with both batsmen looking set and Ollerdsen especially playing with confidence and treating Davies with scant courtesy. At this stage Hancock decided to rest Bird and Major Edwards went on at the pavilion end. His first over gave Bagnall and Sayer quite a lot of work to do at cover point and mid-off and from one of Bagnall's express returns Leach was almost run out. Frank behind the sticks was particularly good and on numerous occasions was just waiting for the batsman to lift his toe to stomp him. 60 went up at 11.25 and a drizzle of rain set in which was very unfortunate for Hongkong, as it severely handicapped Davies, who did not seem to be keeping so good a length, and Major Edwards on one occasion let the ball slip completely out of his hand as he was about to deliver the first ball of the over. Leach tried to play across a straight ball from Edwards and completely missed it getting his leg in front and was given out l.b.w. on the appeal. Total 63 for 2 wickets: Leach 18 and Ollerdsen 37.

C. E. Spencer now faced Edwards and with his arrival the rain which an over before looked like stopping the match, ceased. He began very carefully and would not touch anything from Davies unless on the wicket. He played back to a fast Yorker and was very nearly bowled by the same player and seemed content to let his partner do the scoring though he had a pretty hit past cover from a short ball from Edwards. The same bowler sent up a loose ball to Ollerdsen who sent it between point and cover to the rails, and in the next over he drove Davies to the scoring board for 4. Spencer now seemed more at home and made some pretty scoring shots. The rain seemed to have softened the wicket somewhat and it was cutting up a little. Wodehouse relieved Davies at the Naval Yard End and the drizzle set in again heavier than before. A loose ball from Wodehouse went for 2 byes and brought the score to 80 for 2 wickets quite a comfortable position for the visitors. T. E. Pearce was doing good work at mid-off and allowing nothing to pass him. He was deservedly applauded on several occasions and his throwing in was delightful. Ollerdsen brought his score to the half-century mark with a lovely glide to square leg from Edwards and earned much applause; but he did not last much longer, as he got out of his ground to a short ball on the off from Wodehouse. The wicket-keeper did not seem to gather the ball, but rather to knock it on to the wicket in rather a lucky manner; but the Umpire had no difficulty in deciding that Ollerdsen was out of his crease.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY. PLEAD: D.

PRISONER REMANDED.

MORRISON GAP ROAD ROBBERY.

Inspector Kent, of No. 2 Police Station, this morning charged a Chinese before Magistrate Orme with attempted highway robbery in Morrison Gap Road on the morning of October 30, and with wounding Mrs. Flake with a knife.

The defendant pleaded mistaken identity.

Inspector Kent said that on the morning of October 30, Mrs. Flake and a lady friend were walking along Morrison Gap Road in the direction of the Civil Service Club, when the defendant snatched at Mrs. Flake's hand bag. The ladies struggled with the defendant who cut Mrs. Flake on the arm with a knife before running away without taking the bag. Mrs. Flake and her friend gave chase but could not catch the defendant. Yesterday morning, Mrs. Flake was again walking along Morrison Gap Road when she met the defendant who tried to cover his face with his hands. Mrs. Flake caught hold of him, a struggle ensued. An Indian constable in uniform whom Mrs. Flake asked to arrest the defendant said that he could not as he did not belong to the Wanchai district. Two Marines who were passing, however removed the defendant to the station. Mrs. Flake and her friend were both positive that the defendant was the man who had accosted them on October 30. The Inspector asked the Magistrate to remand the case for a few days as he would like to give the defendant a chance to call witnesses and prove an alibi. The Magistrate remanded the case until Tuesday next.

THEATRE ROYAL.

VARIETY CONCERT

LAST NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertaining programme was given last night at the Theatre Royal by the United Services Variety Concert Party in aid of the Italian Convent at West Point. The performance will be repeated to-night.

The programme of seventeen numbers, consisted of an agreeable assortment of songs, both sentimental and comic, some clever sketches, and other feats of skill. Mr. and Mrs. Miles, in "Gretchen and Thar", G. Clements and H. Jordan, in "Thing We Don't Know", and Mr. A. East, in comic songs, gave a professional touch to the programme by the quality of their work. The "Two Rascals" also were highly appreciated. Aslett and Anthony gave an excellent balancing act how easily one who knows how can escape from handcuffs and a box that is both locked and roped.

A Chinese was yesterday admitted to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from injuries to his head received while at work on coal on board the s.s. "Tydeus."

Inspector Spear, of the Water Police, this morning charged a Chinese before Magistrate Orme with unlawfully returning to the Colony after having been banished on October 26, 1919 for a period of ten years. The defendant said that he intended to stay only a few days in Hongkong. He came back to see a friend. Sentence of twelve months' hard labour was passed.

A Chinese living in a matched at Homantin reports to the police that about midnight yesterday, six men, two of whom carried torches and one a dagger, broke into his match. The armed man stood guard over the complainant and his wife while the others ransacked the place and stole clothing, jewellery and money to the total value of $147. Some $66 worth of clothing was recovered by the police who effected the arrest of one of the robbers.

131 for 156 wickets: Farthing relieved Edwards at the Pavilion end and clean bowled Spencer, who seemed set, with his second ball.

ADVERSARIA.

"Not one of the papers ANCESTOR I have seen has LIGHTS," discussed that "ancient lights" case at Shanghai with any approximate intelligence. I have read five separate shots at it. One Shanghai paper said the decision might be "but it wasn't justice, and failed to get within hailing distance of the point. The judge had to apply Chinese law, which does not seem to recognize such an issue. Chinese builders do not bother much about light and air, so we can understand that. The point is that under British law the judgment might well have been the same. All depends on what right the Bible Society litigants had, on how long they had those windows, on whether they were, as a fact, "ancient lights." Our law of ancient lights is devised as much in the interests of the party who objects to the windows as of the party who has them. An act of 1832 has been much misunderstood, many people thinking that 20 years enjoyment of a "light" overlooking another man's property gives a perpetual right; but it all depends. The owner of the land next door may prevent such lights being set up, but he may be abroad, and so unaware of the trespass. There is no absolute or indefeasible right even after the 20 years of enjoyment have expired, the other party, when challenged, having to prove his right at common law. Incidentally, no one has pointed out that the Bible Society's reason for existence is to circulate a book which expressly forbids such litigation. Further incidentally, and as to the justice of it, I should say that in congested urban areas like Hongkong and Shanghai the lighting of any building should be from front and back; and that side-lights, except where easement has been paid for, are a mean attempt to over-reach the neighbouring owners. A man who tries to establish "ancient lights" over the property of another, in such circumstances, behaves like the hog who in a railway carriage puts his feet on the opposite seat and refuses to remove them when that seat is wanted. Personally, I shall by way of protest reduce my annual subscription to the Bible Society.

One of the China Mail

EDITORIAL leader-writers had some notes on egotism on Thursday which showed a certain amount of crude thinking, but the development of the thesis was incoherent and incomplete.

The writer deliberately and gratitiously dragged me in as an example, coupled with that pretentious ass Bernard Shaw, so I am going to tell a story of his boyhood to even. His father went to the nursery and found his little brother and sister playing the story of the temptation in Eden, while he himself stood in a corner. Knowing this boy (the writer of the leader) to be very egotistical, he wondered why he had allowed his juniors the star parts of Adam and Eve, while a skipping rope hanging over a chair back was a realistic serpent.

The mystery was soon solved. The youngster standing in the corner, with folded arms and frowning face, had cast himself for the part of Deity!

A local sermon reported in the Press

"WORSHIP," shows a man who believes, not only in praying for the dead, but that the dead watch our careers and pray for us and perhaps "help us in ways we do not know." This is very interesting, and reminds us again that practically all the religions involve some such belief in relations between the quick and the dead. Roman acquits the Semitarians of it, but we doubt his authority. The Chinese and Japanese share this belief, our interview-er's negative results with the local proletariat notwithstanding. It is generally impossible to get such people to confess their faith, where they have reason to expect ridicule, or to suspect that the truth would not please the enquirer. The Romans had their munera, closely akin to the Chinese. So have the Hindoes. So also more barbarous peoples. F. C. Conybeare tells an interesting story of a barbarian chief who, having been converted and being about to receive Christian baptism, passed as he was stepping down into the font, and asked the priests if in the heaven to which their rites admitted him he would meet and converse with his pagan ancestors. On being assured that he would not, he stepped out again and declined to go any further with the ceremony.

Aristotle characterizes disbelief in our dead ancestors as tan haphion ("extremely unloving"). In this old Greek anticipated Conan Doyle.

I am tempted like Silas Weger, to offer you a little rhyme:

If Conan Doyle and Copley Moyle Agree with Aristotle.
Then why should I attempt deny The Genii in the Bottle?

I was very ill on CULTURAW. Thursday, suffering from alcoholic pok-soning, and I sent for a doctor.
He chatted with me awhile, after he had overhauled me and prescribed, and said some things that I think worth quoting. We were talking about the Dunsany plays and stories, and this man of science spoke somewhat as follows: "That sort of thing, Adversarius, is liked by that sort of people who imagine culture is something they can buy at a store in a ready-made-up package. They are, especially here, conscious of their need of it; but they do not know that culture cannot be acquired in such a way. It is a by-product of preparation. It is like old-age, it has to be lived for. Sometimes impatient adolescents express longings for age and the privileges they suppose it to bring, and these culture hunters, many of them quite in earnest, remind me of those children." An intelligent doctor, wasn't he?

Reading Bernard
Shaw's play "Pyg-malion," this week, and of course the customary introduction. I was struck by the very evident fact that he endows the science of phonetics with far greater powers than it has so far gained, and greater than it is likely to gain. He tells us plainly that he has knowledge of two systems of shorthand, and I am wondering if he hasn't that little knowledge which is powerfully dangerous. He quotes a person at the Pitman System of Phonography as the "Pitman system."

I recall that dear old Mark Twain always an enthusiastic hobby-rider, wrote an essay in praise of the Pitman phonography, and by his examples showed that he hadn't got half way towards understanding its real merits. Shaw seems to think that every possible word could be written down in some system so that it could be reproduced exactly. It might be possible, but I doubt it. The idea of a girl like Liza with a good ear learning to talk like someone else is quite feasible, and as Shaw says, is often done; but it wasn't done, as he says it must be done, scientifically. It was acquired orally. It is pure mimicry. All the phonetic and phonography in the world could not teach it. If I am to estimate Shaw's phonography by his attempts at phonetic spelling, I shall rate it pretty low. After all, a man cannot excel in everything—even when his name is Shaw.

A merchant writes in to "Dear Mr.

"MERCATOR." Adversarius. How does he know that

I'm not a Mrs. He asks me for the address of "MERCATOR." The only Mercator I know is the planispherer, and map man, Gerhard Kremer, formerly of Flanders. It appears that the "MERCATOR" my merchant is after writes in one of the other papers, and that "the various rice merchants have failed to fulfil his prophecies of the past six months." My mercantile correspondent says: "While rice, metal, and many other merchants appear, according to him, to be on the brink of disaster, it seems a pity he does not put them in the way of retrieving their fortunes by securing them some of those Mexican dollars which are on offer at 13 per cent. discount. Surely they would allow him a share of the 12 per cent. profit in sight. Of course it may be that he prefers to keep the source of supply dark, and is waiting till he can nobble the "current coin" at the future rate of 20 per cent. dis."

Now if you ask me what all that is about

I cannot tell you.

In spite of the fact that I don't know.

For me,

Business is a howwid trade—

Something lost or something made—

And they wowsy and they mope

And they put their highest hope

On the price, perhaps, of soap.

Don't you know?

I used to wonder why they talked so much about tea-teas here (a drunken place, ma laddies) thinking they meant teatotalers. When a man said to me that he thought the Government could recoup its lost option revenue by putting a stamp duty on tea-teas, I wondered where they'd put the stamps.

When he went on to say that the tea-tea turnover here is enormous, and that it is mostly gambling, and that a tax on it would not interfere with legitimate trade, I began to inquire that he meant something different from what I thought. I asked him straightly what he meant by a tea-tea, and he said "A telegraphic transfer, of course." And I cannot tell you what that means, either; but I pass on the man's suggestion to the Government, on the chance that it knows.

W. H. sends in a grotesque article to prove that we are all animated meat.

He sees no objection to cannibalism, and gloats over the idea of "a juicy steak cut from Adversarius." But I'd be horribly tough, and I'd be sure to disagree with him, as I am and as I do now.

Let the Government A NEW recruit more police at once, and put one on every tramcar, if they want the gambling ordinance to be respected. A new gamble is in full swing, which, for all I know, may be ruining the handsome young men who take part in it. It began innocently enough by a group of friends drawing lots to see who should pay the car-fares. The drawer of the ticket bearing the lowest number was to pay. Then some ingenious villain discovered that the immoral game of poker could be played with tram tickets.
Noughts were to be jokers, so that a man who drew, say, No. 6160, would be reckoned to hold three sixes. On one occasion a man held 6745, and claimed to win with a "straight." A logician in the party pointed out that it was a busted straight, one card short, but was over-ruled. Yet when, in another game, he held 8910, and claimed a straight of eight, nine, and ten, they wouldn't pay him. A fierce quarrel arose. Now this is not right. Let the police see to it.

Talking about sin, Elbert Hubbard defines it as "misdirected energy." People, he says, are not punished for their sins, but by them.

The same writer has THE SOFT a fine essay on the
OF SONGS. Song of Songs, pointing out that it contains no reference to things other-worldly. "The author doubtless belonged to the fleshly school of poets." He mentions that Theodore long ago guessed it to be what Professor Garstang has since proved it to be. Theodore was a bishop of Cyrrhus, an important theological author, born in Antioch about 385. Hubbard does not care either way; he insists that it is a beautiful thing, and that that is "enough." One can agree with that. "So," he says, "let me view the statue simply as a statue," and proceeds to write an eloquent defence of Sex, which I am sure our editor would not permit me to quote, he respecting the Lady Grundy more than I do. I regard her as an old cow, and "show" her out of my path. He declares she is still a powerful queen.
Maybe he's right.

The book of Hubbard's essays was sent in by a China Mail reader, after the editorial note, on Thursday evening appeared, and he will no doubt want to know how far this particular essay modifies the view therein imparted. Not at all. It is not remarkable that Hubbard, who has very evidently not seen the literal translation from the oldest copy, should have reached a kindred conclusion, as Theodore did, because the internal evidence is strong enough, once the clue is gotten. The remarkable thing is that, having the clue, Hubbard should have written: "I think I am safe in saying the remarks in the poem addressed to third persons are merely monologue and interjectory exclamations, day-dreams and love musings, in which young men and maidens ever reveal." There were other persons present, at what seems to have been equivalent to a wedding breakfast.

Moreover, in place of the first verse, there was a document very like a modern payroll, mentioning not only the names of the players, but even supers, such as "eunuchs," bath attendants, etc." I would like before passing on to other things to thank this very obliging reader, and to notify him that I particularly enjoyed the essay on Ecclesiastes. One of these days I hope to discuss that book, too. At present I had better not, because not all readers are interested in such things, and I mustn't overdo any one department of interest.

Another reader

REAL sends in some

NEWSPAPERS, copies of the Cal- gary Eye Opener, in the hope that these "real newspapers may interest and inspire" Adversarius. Isn't it sweet of these lads to try to help me out in this way? Now that the Onion Club has gone phut, I am wondering if we couldn't have an Adversaria

Club, on the lines of the Pickwick Club. I wouldn't expect the members to wear bottle-green coats with special buttons, or anything like that; but if we got together more it seems to me we might wake up dear old somnolent Hongkong in a literary and Pickwickian sense.

By the way, the lad who sends in these Canadian newspapers is a re-incarnation of Sam Weller. The rules of the Adversaria Club would be drafted by its members, but I suggest for a start:

(1) No day without its laugh.

(2) Down with Humbug.

We could have a Secret Sign, such as a gesture representing the lifting of a pot of beer, by which members would know each other. And a monthly dinner at which no one would be allowed to talk anything but nonsense. What d'you think of it? We might get the new Bishop as Vice-president. I, of course, like my old friend Pickwick, would be Perpetual President, P.P.A.C. There needn't be be "located in one of the prettiest lakes." I got the editor to run me out in his automobile, and found it was a village of negro shacks, with not one white neighbour. I didn't buy, and I'm glad of it, for I don't like lynchings. I have been in BISHOP DUPPUY.

RECEPTION AND ENTHERONEMENT.

WELCOME SPEECH BY GOVERNOR.

SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL.

Last evening the enthronement of the new Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Charles Ridley Duppuay, took place at St. John's Cathedral, the ceremony being of a very impressive nature. Prior to this reception was held at the Helena May Institute which was attended by the Governor, local clergy and a large number of the Colony's residents.

The Governor said it was his pleasure and privilege on behalf of those present and of the Church of England in the Colony and South China to give the Bishop a hearty welcome on his arrival in their midst. (Applause). The Bishop had confided to him that he was not a person who cared either to make or to hear speeches, and therefore he intended to be very brief in his remarks, especially as he did not feel there was anything he could tell them which would be of value. There was, as his Lordship knew, a great field of work in South China, and he hoped shortly to see the resumption of more peaceful conditions, which would make the extension of the work of civilisation and Christianity possible. He felt sure that in the Bishop's hands the interests of the Church would be safe and that whatever could be done to advance the interests of Christianity would be done. With regard to the Colony, the Governor said he was glad to think that the finances of the Church had been placed on a much better basis than had been the case for many years, largely owing to the generous benefactions of Sir Paul Chater. The situation for several years, owing to the high rate of exchange, had been one of very great anxiety, and he knew the Bishop's predecessor felt it very keenly. He was very glad to think that to some extent the difficulty had now been removed, although much more required to be done by the Christian community to place the Church upon a proper footing and to endow it as it should be. If the Church was to flourish they must see to it that that was put right, and he had no doubt that during his Lordship's term of office it would be done. Another project which was on foot was the establishment of a central Y.M.C.A. for Europeans. The Chinese already had a Y.M.C.A. which was in a flourishing condition. He was very pleased to say that with the assistance of the military authorities there was a good prospect of establishing a Y.M.C.A. in a good central position within the next year or two, and he felt sure they would have his Lordship's support in that matter. That was another instance in which the Christian community would have to put their hands into their pockets. He was sorry to say that in the past the Church had not been properly supported. It was just as well for him to speak frankly about the matter in order that the Bishop might know that he had not come into a field of roses. It gave him very great pleasure indeed to offer a hearty welcome to their new Bishop. (Applause).

Replying Bishop Duppuay thanked the Governor for his kind words and also those present for the hearty way in which they had received him. He confessed that when the Somali steamed into the harbour on Wednesday evening he felt a bit lonely, but his doubts were soon dispelled when he saw the Archdeacon, the Rev. Copley Moyle and a number of clergy at the quayside waiting to welcome him, and then on arrival at this house, where Archdeacon and Mrs. Barnett did everything to make him comfortable, he began to feel at home. The Bishop, proceeding, said that about twelve months ago he had not got much of a conception of what the Diocese of Victoria consisted of, and he believed it might be true that the people in the diocese and certainly a large number of people at Home did not realise the extent of the diocese, which comprised somewhere about 50 million people. In the Archbishop's first approach to him about coming to Hongkong, it made him think very much as to whether he ought to accept the post, to see for one thing if it meant a complete break with his own past and also if it meant coming to conditions of which he had to first hand experience. He was assured by his friends that no man would have all the qualifications necessary and was advised to accept and do his best. That he intended to do. He would promise them that he would put his back into the work and he looked to them for the support and help they could afford him in his huge task. The Church of Christ was never going to progress in the world, as it ought to progress, and particularly so at the present crisis, unless they received the whole-hearted support of the clergy and laity. The more he studied the problems of South China the more convinced he was there was a great work in front of him, and he desired that he might have strength given him to do it and that he might have their backing in its accomplishment. (Applause). The Bishop in conclusion acknowledged his indebtedness to his predecessor, Bishop Lander, and mentioned that at his consecration at Lambeth on the 24 June he had the hands of both an African and Indian Bishop laid upon him, and he believed he was the first Bishop to undergo that experience. (Applause).

THE ENTHERONEMENT.

St. John's Cathedral was crowded in the evening for the ceremony of enthronement. The service opened with the hymn "The Church's one foundation." The choir, clergy and Church bodies forming a procession the north side of the Church and halted in the nave. At the conclusion of the hymn the Bishop knelt three times at the west door. This petition to be installed and enthroned. The procession then proceeded up the nave the hymn "The God of Abraham praise" being sung. The order of the procession was—The Cathedral Choir, St. Andrew's Church Body, The Chinese Church Body, The Cathedral Church Body, The Clergy of the Diocese (in order of seniority), The Archdeacon of Hongkong, The Chaplain of the Cathedral, The Lord Bishop of Victoria, Hongkong, The Bishop's Chaplains.

The Bishop took his place at a fald-stool while the hymn "Come Holy Ghost, our souls inspire" was sung, the congregation kneeling. The letters commendatory of the Archbishop of Canterbury were presented to Archdeacon Barnett and the Chaplain of the Cathedral (Rev. H. Copley Moyle) and were read by the Pro-Chancellor. The installation and enthronement were carried out by the Rev. Copley Moyle in the following words:

"I, Henry Copley Moyle, Chaplain of this Cathedral Church, acting according to the Letters Commendatory of His Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, do install and enthronize you, Right Reverend Father, into the Chair Episcopal of this Cathedral Church, and do place you in this Seat in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Chaplain then pronounced the blessing and the Bishop requested the prayers of the congregation. The anthem "I will wash my hands in innocence" was rendered by the choir, being followed by the hymn "Alleluia, sing to Jesus."

The Bishop, taking as his text John 4, v. 34, "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to accomplish His work," said—"It is a humbling thing for a man to be called to be a Bishop, a chief pastor in the Church of God for he knows that to him has been committed a great trust affecting many lives—that he has been appointed to be the organ of a movement going on since the beginning of Christianity and which can allow itself no bounds but the world, that he is to be a minister of something greater than a man can be himself—of powers and blessings of the other world, of judgments inscrutable and ways past finding out, and of a love which is beyond understanding—youth and old must look at that solemn hour when he commits each generation of children to God's keeping in the world by the laying on of hands, and that from him and his laying on of hands a whole body of clergy must draw their commission to the gain or the loss of the Church of Christ—that he is to bear on high in a world of sense and time, always passing away, the everlasting and most holy name. As I begin my ministry among you I can set before myself only one ideal, the ideal which the Great Shepherd and the beginning of his ministry among men. That my meat shall be to do the will of Him that sent me and to accomplish His work," and at the close when I hand back my charge into those strong hands that sustain the world, I would that I might be called to say, "I have glorified Thee on the earth, having accomplished the work Thou gavest me to do." For as one said long ago "There is nothing in the world worth living for but doing good and finishing God's work, doing the work Christ came to do." I have been called to be a Bishop at no ordinary time. This is an hour which must always stand out by itself in human history. The world is changing very fast, great changes have already taken place, greater changes still, I confidently believe, lie before us, changes which must profoundly affect the whole future of society. A world in upheaval lies at the edge of an unknown future, full of great possibilities, full of evil and of good, a world at its malleable point lies ready to take an impress which it will retain for many centuries. These years count for more than any other years in the whole history of mankind, if we except the years of the incarnation of the Son of Man. Amid all these changes the Church of the living God has to exercise its distinctive function, which is to bring in a new creation which it only can accomplish. For the Christian life in the world to-day is not a survival of the past, it is a fragment of the future, it is eternally breaking into the world of time, and it is here by the creative act of God, "I saw the Holy City new Jerusalem coming down out of Heaven from God."

"The more I live," said a well known statesman long ago, "the more I realise that when we have done our best by Acts of Parliament, we can never bring the world back to purity and permanent peace, except by the pure and undivided religion of Jesus Christ." The greatest need, even of our needy time, is a religion which shines by its own light. I have been called to be a Bishop in no ordinary times and to be chief pastor in a diocese of more than ordinary interest, and I believe with more than ordinary scope. This diocese has three distinguishing features. It is the oldest diocese connected with our Church in the Far East. It was founded in 1849, almost immediately after Hongkong became a British Colony. I have often thought of the contrast between those early days when Bishop Smith was consecrated first Bishop and the present time. Then there was the long journey out by sailing ships, the almost complete severance from home life. China was largely closed to Christian influence and there was no other Bishop of our Church in the Far East. Today transit is easy, China is largely open to Christian influence. At my own consecration as Bishop, the Chinese Minister in London was represented and during the Lambeth Conference of Bishops he invited all the Bishops from China to lunch at his house—a Church of China grown up. Between Bishop Smith and myself there have been four Bishops, and in spite of many difficulties and disappointments there has been unquestioned progress. "One sower and another reaper," he that reaps receives wages and gathereth fruit unto life eternal that he that sows and he that reaps may rejoice together. This is the oldest diocese connected with our Church in the Far East. It is a Colonial diocese. Seventy years ago Hongkong was a barren rock, now it is one of the great strategic centres of the world. I rejoice to have the opportunity of ministering to my kith and kin in this distant outpost of the Empire. I am glad I am Bishop of a diocese which contains one of the greatest ports in the world. I have worked among sailors in Liverpool. I am glad too that this is a military centre, for I have seen human nature put to the test in the war and again and again witnessed the heights to which ordinary human nature can rise. I hope that I may more and more be able to understand the life of the British community here and serve it, and of this one thing I am sure, that the greatest asset of British nature is British character, and that British character owes not a little to the Christian religion. I would remind you, too, that the test of a true faith is the extent to which its religion is secular. This diocese reaches far away beyond the Colony of Hongkong to Tibet and the very borders of Burma. In area it is more than six times the size of Great Britain and comprises almost the whole of South China. Its population must be more than 70 millions, and as you know, Canton, the capital of South China, with its two million inhabitants, falls within it. I think I appreciate, and appreciate deeply, the work already done by the missionaries, by evangelists, by educationalists and by our Chinese brethren, no less than by Europeans, and I realise too under what difficulties the work is being done. For instance, at Pakhoi, where there is a leper asylum, the work is now being carried on by only one nurse. But as I survey the vast extent of the territory for which I am responsible so far as the ministrations of our Church are concerned, I can only say with Cecil Rhodes, "So little done, so much to do." I hope that the missionary work of this diocese may grow from strength to strength, for it would be like life from the dead if the whole body of the human race could understand and accept the message of the Gospel. The reaction from such work is greater in its benefits than almost any other work which can be done. As I look forward to the future I see that great tasks lie before us, tasks which demand the co-operation of us all, of laymen, equally with the clergy, of Chinese no less than

Europeans, and I invite the loyal help of you all. At long last it is that which is spiritual which endures. I would conclude by quoting some words of the greatest Bishops of modern times, both Bishops of Durham, both school friends together, Bishop Westcott and Bishop Lightfoot. At Trinity College, Cambridge, towards the end of his life, Bishop Westcott said: "I have had an unusually long working time and I think unequalled opportunities of service. Where I have failed, as I have failed often and grievously, it has not been because I once saw an ideal, but because I have not looked to it constantly, faithfully, steadily, because I have distrusted myself and distrusted others, because again and again I have lost the help of sympathy, since I was unwilling to claim from those who called me friend the sacrifice that I myself was ready to make. So now an old man I dream dreams of great hope, when I plead with those who will carry forward what my own generation has left unattended, to welcome the ideal which breaks in light upon them, even the fullest realisation of self, the complete service of others, the devoted fellowship with God, to strive towards it untrigly, even if it seems to fade from eye to eye as we move. The world is ruled by great ideals, the soul responds to them. We are God's ministers, and the highest we can imagine for man, for nations, for humanity, falls short of God's will for his creatures and the resources which he offers to us for its fulfilment." And I think no less stimulating, are the words of Bishop Lightfoot: "Success and failure—your success or my failure, the success of an hour or the failure of an hour—what are these confronted with the eternal purpose? Speaks in boundless space, moments in limitless time. Ah! yes it is just this. We do not realise that we are children of eternity. If we did, then success would be no success, and failure would be no failure to us. Eternal truth, eternal righteousness, eternal love, these only can triumph for these only can endure. If you hold fast to these, then your victory is certain, whatever may come meanwhile." "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to accomplish His work."

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

IRELAND'S TRAGEDY.

LONDON, November 3rd.

Outrage, continue to be reported in an intensified form from Ireland. To-day the batch so far gives three constables as killed and a number as wounded.

Several further attempts have been made, but without success, on court houses and police barracks. At two centres these were destroyed.

In the case of one murder at Limerick, a constable left the barracks to go to the village and did not return. His dead body was found in the morning in a drain, half naked.

In the Dublin environs the military carried out another last night and made one arrest.

The question of the condition of Ireland was again raised in the House of Commons this afternoon, when Mr. T. P. O'Connor attempted to obtain another debate on the reprisals policy, but was unsuccessful.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, replying to Mr. T. P. O'Connor, said that a number of murders had taken place, also disturbances, consequent on the search for criminals. He had called for reports, but in most cases the telegraph wires had been cut by criminals. He added that the police were in a state of great indignation, following the assassination of their comrades.

Following an attack on a military lorry at Athlone in which three soldiers were wounded, men in uniforms last night burned down and totally destroyed a large printing works at Athlone. The damage is estimated at £100,000. Many inhabitants have been thrown out of work.

"THE UNKNOWN WARRIOR."

LONDON, November 3rd.

It has now been arranged that the body of the unknown warrior, who will be buried in Westminster Abbey on November 11th, will be conveyed to England by the destroyer Ferdun on November 10th, and repose in a temporary chapel at Victoria station overnight.

The inscription on the coffin will be: "A British Warrior, who fell in the Great War of 1914-1918 for King and Country."

PALESTINE FUND.

LONDON, November 3rd.

The Zionist Organisation has received a cable from Mr. Israel Cohen stating that he has collected nearly £75,000 in Australia for the Palestine Restoration Fund, and that he is now going to Hongkong.

SOVIET SUBMARINES.

LONDON, November 3rd.

Lord Curzon has replied to M. Krassin's Note stating that the belief of the British Government regarding the aggressive intention of Soviet submarines is based on the open avowal of a Soviet Minister, when launching a submarine in the Black Sea, that he hoped it would sink an Entente vessel.

Lord Curzon adds that the Government's fears were confirmed by the vague statement contained in M. Krassin's Note whereby the Soviet submarine commander, who desired to torpedo British ships, would be provided with an excuse of mistaken identity.

Lord Curzon further points out that the Soviet in the Black Sea are still engaged in open hostility against British interests in which the submarines may, at any time, be engaged.

EAST AFRICA CURRENCY.

LONDON, November 3rd.

In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. Jesson, who drew attention to the damaging effect to the producers in East Africa of the course of the exchange with India, Colonel Amery stated that the rupee for which the British was being substituted was stabilised at one-tenth of £1 in Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika at a time when the value of the rupee in India was raised to one-tenth of a gold sovereign. He saw no reason to suppose that the exchange value of the Indian rupee will remain permanently below the two-shillings, and he was not prepared to sacrifice the advantage to East Africa of a stable exchange and a definite association with the sterling because of a temporary depression in the Indian exchange.

"For the Blood is the Life."

YOUR BLOOD WANTS PURIFYING.

IF YOU are troubled with Eczema, Boils, Sores or Eruptions of any kind continually bursting through the skin.

IF YOU are suffering from Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Backache, Stiffness of Joints, etc.

IF YOU are in the grip of Rheumatism, Stiffness of Joints, etc.

IF YOU are in the grip of Rheumatism, Stiffness of Joints, etc.

All these are sure signs of clogging blood impurity, calling for immediate treatment through the blood, so don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments, which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have is a medicine that will get right to the root of your trouble, a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poisonous matter which alone is the true cause of all your suffering. Clarke's Blood Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly attack, overcome, and expel from the blood all impurities (from whatever cause arising), and by rendering it clean and pure, can be relied on to effect a lasting cure.

The True Value of CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE is testified by a most remarkable collection of unqualified testimonials from grateful patients of all classes—patients who have been cured after doctors and hospitals have given them up as incurable—patients who have been cured after trying many other treatments without success—patients who not only have been cured of the particular Skin or Blood Complaint from which they were suffering, but also have found great improvement in their general health. (See pamphlet round bottle.)

TODAY'S FOOTBALL.

LEAGUE MATCHES.

The following first and second division matches of the Hongkong Football League are fixed for this afternoon—

DIVISION I.
Hongkong Club v. South China A.C. Club ground, 4 p.m. Referee, Mr. Birkenhead.

2nd Wiltshires v. H.M.S. "Ambrose," Sookumpoo ground, 4 p.m. Referee, Mr. Pragnell.
Hongkong Police v. Kowloon, Navy "A" ground, 4 p.m. Referee, Mr. Evans.

DIVISION II.
Hongkong Club Reserves v. St. Joseph's College, Club ground, 2.30 p.m. Referee, Mr. Jones.
Staff and Depts. v. Club de Recreio, Sookumpoo ground, 2.30 p.m. Referee, Mr. Holland.

R.G.A. Reserves v. S.C.A. Reserves, Navy "B" ground, 2.30 p.m. Referee, Mr. Cheesley.
Oilers United v. Indian Recreation Club, S.C.A. ground, 2.30 p.m. Referee, Mr. Robson.

Kowloon Reserves v. 22nd Punjabis, Navy "A" ground, 2.30 p.m. Referee, Mr. Wells.
H.M.S. "Carlisle" having left the station temporarily, the following matches are postponed—Division I, H.M.S. "Carlisle" v. H.M.S. "Tamar," Division II, H.M.S. "Carlisle" Res. v. United.

A very interesting game is anticipated on the Club ground between the home team and the South China Athletics. The Chinese, who have always played good football, are stronger than usual this season, and can be expected to give a good account of themselves in this afternoon's match. The Club, too, is stronger with the return of several old players, and can be relied upon to give the Chinese a run for their money. A fast game is expected and a goalless draw would not be a surprise.

The Wiltshires will be at home to the "Ambrose" on the Sookumpoo ground, when a very fast and interesting game should result. The sailors will be without the service of their smart centre forward, Hannaford, while the soldiers will be at their strongest, with Moxham playing centre forward. In spite of this handicap, the "Ambrose" will undoubtedly play their best, and should have a fair share of the exchanges. It is difficult to forecast the result.

The Police will meet Kowloon on the Navy ground. They are being strengthened by Alexander who has been absent from the team for several games owing to the Interport practice matches. They should give as good as they take and a keen match is anticipated. It is rumoured that Mr. Burlingham, A.S.P., who is described as a "dark horse," will turn out in the back line. His appearance is being looked forward to with keen interest by many. The chances are fairly even.

Of the second division matches, the one which promises the most excitement is the Staffs v. Club de Recreio. If the soldiers think of annexing the points without a struggle, they will be much disappointed. The Portuguese play a sound game these days and are capable of springing many surprises. The Staffs will be strengthened by Scouler. This is anybody's game.

With regard to the other matches, there should be little doubt as to the results if all the teams play their best. St. Joseph's, who had very hard lines last Saturday, should secure their first two points to-day at the expense of the Club Reserves who will be greatly handicapped by the absence of young Gerrard. But the Collegians will certainly not have play all their own way if the Club turn out the same forwards they fielded last week. The R.G.A. Reserves, Oilers United, and Kowloon Reserves, ought to win their respective matches, but at the same time, the Indian R.C. and the Punjabis can be expected to put up a keen struggle.

H.K. F.C. v. SOUTH CHINA.

The following have been selected to represent the Club in a league match to-day against the South China A.C. on the Club Ground kick off 4 p.m. sharp—G. Rodger, W. Gerrard, J. Lawrence, M. L. Ralston (Capt.), J. Rodger, J. W. R. McPhail, L. Goldenberg, H. Day, M. Sandberg, E. Moore, and E. Kiss.

KOWLOON v. POLICE.

The following team will represent the Kowloon Football Club in their league match to-day, on the Navy ground at 4 p.m.—W. Crocker, F. Wheeler and T. Knight; C. Millard, A. Weyman, and P. Beasley; W. Taylor, B. Pasco, F. Evelyn, R. Townsend, and F. Clemo.

H.K. F.C. 2ND XI. v. ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE.

The following will represent the H.K. Football Club 2nd XI. against the St. Joseph's College on the Club Ground to-day, kick off 2.30 p.m. sharp—G. Groot, C. Wilkie, M. Tonkin, W. Ireland, J. Dodds, L. Sorensen, E. Ralston, G. May, A. Boysep, R. S. Logan, and J. P. Sherry.

KOWLOON RESERVES v. 22ND PUNJABIS.

The following will represent Kowloon in their match to-day at 2.30 on the Navy ground—H. McKay, S. Hewer and K. Mason; J. Coupland, G. White, and C. Mackenzie; A. Spary, E. Alderson, J. Carlwell, A. Young, and A. Estorfe. Reserve: A. Martin.

BILLIARDS.

PALACE HOTEL TOURNAMENT.

At 9 o'clock last night, a very interesting match in connection with the Palace Hotel Handicap Billiards tournament was witnessed when Mr. J. Snook (200) met Mr. T.B. Golding (300), and after a very close and exciting game, the result of which was uncertain until the last stroke, Snook won by the narrow margin of five points. The scores were: Snook, 250; Golding, 245.

Snook's best breaks were 32, 23, 21 (twice), 20, 16 (twice) and 16, and Golding's were 41, 39, 34, 28 13 (twice), 16 and 15 (twice).

CHARITY BAZAAR.

TO-DAY'S FETE.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE GROUNDS.

Of interest to-day is the bazaar in the grounds of Government House, under the auspices of the Ministering Children's League and Women's Guild. It is an annual event, and this year well up to its usual high standard. Besides the various attractive stalls, there are side-shows both indoors and out, not the least of which is an amusing playlet, "Outside the Bathroom."

INDIGESTION AND BILIOUSNESS.

YOU should not eat food of any kind when bilious, but take a full dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and drink plenty of water. That will cleanse the stomach, move the bowels, and restore the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.
